July 11 - Navy Band Great Lakes - Horizon

“Horizon” is a high-energy group of Navy musicians that travels extensively throughout the Midwest region, entertaining audiences of all ages. Led by Chief Musician Andrew Conover, this group of seven active duty Sailors performs a wide variety of musical styles from rock, pop, rhythm & blues, country, funk, and jazz. “Horizon’s” superb showmanship and outstanding musical presentation have put them in high demand for state fairs, music festivals, colleges, and high schools.

July 18 -

Ambidextrous

Ambidextrous is a cover band that primarily plays 1960's rock and roll songs. We strive to be true to the original recordings by the original artists, as much as possible. We take pride in the fact that people often pay us the compliment, “I could hear every single note you guys played.”

The Shagadelics

Say what you will about polyester, platform shoes and big afros but you cannot deny the funky sounds of the disco era. Re-live those groovy nights at studio 54 with The Shagadelics. Whether you were a "dancing queen" or just had a bad case of the "night fever" The Shagdelics will take you on a wild trip down memory lane.. with a quick stop at the "YMCA" OR maybe even "The Car Wash".

August 1 - Jake Gill

National Night Out 6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

His music is best described as a red dirt/rock fusion. He is a 3rd Round Finalist for NBC's The Voice from auditions held in Dallas in 2012. Jake's influences arise from many artists, most recently singer/songwriters like Eric Church, Josh Thompson, and Brantley Gilbert. You can hear the influence in his music from these talented musicians. A few of his songs will bring a hint of Kenny Chesney to the forefront.
